

Subject Index

- ABCD² score
for TIA risk stratification, 367–373
- Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME) duty hour regulations, impact on outcomes of acute ischemic stroke, 232–238
- ACGME, See Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME)
- Acute ischemic stroke, See Ischemic stroke, acute
- Acute Noninterventional Therapy in Ischemic Stroke (ATLANTIS) trial keeping the three hour time window for rt-PA based on results of, 78–79 (letter)
- Acute posterior multifocal placoid pigment epitheliopathy (APMPPE) acute pontine infarct in an adolescent patient with, 164–166
- Adiponectin
plasma levels of, association with insulin sensitivity in stroke survivors, 214–220
- Adults
young, strokes in Sri Lanka, an unsolved problem, 304–308
- Afibrinogenemia, congenital spinal cord infarction in, 298–303
- Alcohol consumption association with ischemic stroke, influence of apolipoprotein E on, 384–388
- Alien hand syndrome
as an unusual manifestation of ischemic stroke, 72–73
- Alzheimer's disease
carotid artery ultrasound and echocardiography testing to lower the prevalence of, 319–328
- Anecro
new dosing regimen for acute ischemic stroke, 23–27
- Aneurysm
characteristics, risk factors, and outcome in Mexican patients with aneurysmal subarachnoid hemorrhage, 48–55
- Animal models
rabbits, brainstem stroke via endovascular occlusion of the basilar artery, 281–287 of stroke, efficacy of interleukin-1 receptor antagonist in, 269–276
- Antibody
to Chlamydia pneumoniae, association with increased intima-media thickness in asymptomatic Indians, 190–194
- Antioxidant effects of inflamed rabbit skin extract induced by inoculation of Vaccinia virus, in acute ischemic stroke, 475–481
- Antiplatelet therapy
prior, platelet infusion therapy, and outcome after intracerebral hemorrhage, 221–228
- Aphasia
among young patients with ischemic stroke, 247–250
- APMPPE, See Acute posterior multifocal placoid pigment epitheliopathy
- APOE*4, See Apolipoprotein E4
- Apolipoprotein E influence on the association between alcohol consumption and ischemic stroke, 384–388 role in subarachnoid hemorrhage, 116–123
- Apolipoprotein E4 (APOE*4), human role in functional outcomes after intracerebral hemorrhage, 144–149
- Asian-Indians
homocystine levels, MTHFR gene polymorphisms, and risk of ischemic stroke in, 103–110
- Ataxia
after lentiform nucleus stroke, 494–496
- Atherosclerosis
intracranial, CT evaluation of, in Chinese patients with TIA or minor ischemic stroke, 158–163
- Atherothrombosis
stroke prevention by cilostazol in patients with, 482–490
- ATLANTIS, See Acute Noninterventional Therapy in Ischemic Stroke (ATLANTIS) trial
- Atrial fibrillation delayed detection after ischemic stroke, 453–457 intermittent, large proportion of cryptogenic stroke resulting from, detection by 30-day cardiac event monitors, 185–189
- Basilar artery
dilatation of, association with chronic kidney disease and small vessel diseases, in the elderly, 435–442 occlusion of cardioembolic, and stroke, sequential combination of two intravenous thrombolytics in a patient with, 68–71 endovascular, brainstem stroke in rabbits via, 281–287
- Blood pressure abnormal decrease in, vertebrobasilar steno-occlusive pathology associated with brainstem ischemia related to, 309–312
- Bone-marrow transplantation subcortical intracerebral hemorrhage caused by mucormycosis in a patient with a history of, 405–406
- Bone mineral density correlation with bone turnover, at proximal femur in stroke patients, 139–143
- Bone turnover
correlation with bone mineral density, at proximal femur in stroke patients, 139–143
- Brainstem ischemia related to abnormal decrease in blood pressure, vertebrobasilar steno-occlusive pathology associated with, 309–312
- Brazil
southeastern, perception and attitude towards stroke by professionals of emergency medical service in, 195–197
- CAD, See Coronary artery disease
- CADASIL disease, See Cerebral autosomal dominant arteriopathy with subcortical infarcts and leukoencephalopathy (CADASIL) disease
- Caffeinol
and mild hypothermia, combined with thrombolysis, in acute ischemia stroke, 86–96
- Carbenoxolone
peripheral administration of, reduction of ischemic reperfusion injury in transient focal cerebral ischemia by, 81–85
- Cardiac event monitors
30-day, intermittent atrial fibrillation detected by, 185–189
- Cardioembolic occlusion of basilar artery, and stroke, sequential combination of two intravenous thrombolytics in a patient with, 68–71
- Carotid artery
tortuous lumens, in Takayasu's arteritis, 403–404 ultrasound of, and echocardiography testing, to lower the

- prevalence of Alzheimer's disease, 319–328
- Carotid bifurcation, race-ethnic differences in anatomy of, 349–353
- Carotid endarterectomy
 - in an urban hospital, high rate of inappropriateness of, 277–280
 - for diagnosis of acute ischemic stroke, 178–184
- Case reports
 - acute massive cerebral infarctions treated with hemodialysis, 316–318
 - acute pontine infarct in an adolescent with APMPE, 164–166
 - acute stroke and heart attack management within a four-hour time window, 167–170
 - alien hand syndrome as an unusual manifestation of ischemic stroke, 72–73
 - bilateral subdural hematomas in an adult with osteogenesis imperfecta, 313–315
 - CADASIL disease, an inherited slowly progressive vascular dementia, radiologic and electron microscopic findings, 491–493
 - carotid artery ultrasound and echocardiography testing to lower the prevalence of Alzheimer's disease, 319–328
 - MTHFR gene, hyperhomocysteinemia, and risk of stroke, 407–408
 - neurosurgical perspective on the international randomized trial of extracranial-intracranial bypass surgery, 389–397
 - recurrent ischemic stroke in PNH and patent foramen ovale, 409–410
 - right internal carotid artery occlusion during intravenous thrombolysis for left middle cerebral artery occlusion, 74–77
 - safety and efficacy of intravenous thrombolysis in acute ischemic stroke caused by left atrial myxoma, 398–402
 - sequential combination of two intravenous thrombolytics (rt-PA/tenecteplase) in patient with stroke and cardioembolic basilar artery occlusion, 68–71
 - spinal cord infarction in congenital afibrinogenemia, 298–303
 - subcortical intracerebral hemorrhage caused by mucormycosis in a patient with a history of bone-marrow transplantation, 405–406
 - successful treatment of plasma exchange for severe cerebral venous thrombosis with thyrotoxicosis, 239–243
 - tortuous carotid artery lumens in Takayasu's arteritis, 403–404
 - vertebrobasilar steno-occlusive pathology associated with brainstem ischemia related to abnormal decrease in blood pressure, 309–312
 - young strokes in Sri Lanka, an unsolved problem, 304–308
- Cerebral autosomal dominant arteriopathy with subcortical infarcts and leukoencephalopathy (CADASIL) disease radiologic and electron microscopic findings, 491–493
- Cerebral edema
 - after intracerebral hemorrhage, role of APOE4 in, 144–149
- Cerebral infarction
 - acute massive, treated with hemodialysis, 316–318
 - middle, right- versus left-sided lesions, locomotion outcome in hemiplegic patients with, 60–67
- Cerebral venous thrombosis
 - long term sequelae after, in functionally independent patients, 198–202
 - severe, with thyrotoxicosis, successful treatment of plasma exchange for, 239–243
- Certification, Joint Commission
 - of primary stroke center, relation to enrollment in the Sibling with Ischemic Stroke Study, 363–366
- Cervical artery dissection
 - clinical and radiographic natural history of, 416–423
- Chinese
 - CT evaluation of intracranial atherosclerosis in patients with TIA or minor ischemic stroke, 158–163
 - ethnic, association of metabolic syndrome with intracranial large artery disease in patients with acute ischemic stroke, 424–427
- Chlamydia pneumoniae*
 - antibodies, association with increased intima media thickness in asymptomatic Indians, 190–194
- Choreoathetosis
 - after lentiform nucleus stroke, 494–496
- Cilostazol
 - for stroke prevention in patients with atherothrombosis, 482–490
- Cognitive impairment
 - vascular, in community-dwelling elderly individuals, multiple lacunes and leukoaraiosis as, 32–37
- Computed tomography (CT)
 - evaluation of intracranial atherosclerosis in Chinese patients with TIA or minor ischemic stroke, 158–163
- Coronary artery disease
 - versus ischemic stroke, success in achieving preventive therapeutic goals for secondary prevention of, 460–465
- Cryptogenic stroke
 - resulting from intermittent atrial fibrillation, 185–189
- D-dimer
 - for TIA risk stratification, 367–373
- Dementia
 - inherited slowly progressive vascular, radiologic and electron microscopic findings, 491–493
- Dilative arteriopathy
 - intracranial, association with chronic kidney disease and small vessel diseases, in the elderly, 435–442
- Dural arteriovenous fistula
 - tentorial, presenting with quadriplegia, 428–434
- Duty hour regulations
 - of ACGME, impact on outcomes of acute ischemic stroke, 232–238
- Dysnomia
 - after lentiform nucleus stroke, 494–496
- Dysphagia
 - oropharyngeal, after stroke, incidence, diagnosis and clinical predictors in neurorehabilitation unit patients, 329–335
- Echocardiography
 - and carotid artery ultrasound, to lower the prevalence of Alzheimer's disease, 319–328
- Edema
 - cerebral, after intracerebral hemorrhage, role of APOE4 in, 144–149
- Elderly, See Geriatrics
- Emergency medical service
 - perception and attitude towards stroke by professionals in southeastern Brazil, 195–197
- Endarterectomy, carotid
 - in an urban hospital, high rate of inappropriateness of, 277–280
- Epidemiology
 - of intracranial aneurysms in Mississippi, 374–380
 - of stroke in Spain, 11–16
- Episodic memory
 - verbal and visual, after ischemic stroke, correlation with lesion characteristics, 128–138
- Erratum, 170, 171
- Extracranial-intracranial bypass surgery
 - neurosurgical perspective on the international randomized trial of, 389–397
- Facial paralysis
 - unilateral peripheral, bilateral horizontal gaze palsy with, caused by pontine tegmentum infarction, 244–246
- Femur
 - proximal, in stroke patients, correlation between bone turnover and bone mineral density at, 139–143
