Participatory Action Research (PAR) with Children and Youth:

An Integrative Review of Methodology and PAR Outcomes

for Participants, Organizations, and Communities

Daria P. Shamrova, Cristy E. Cummings

Michigan State University

Keywords: participatory action research, integrative review, children, youth

Highlights:

- Participatory action research with children and youth varies widely in approaches to methodological choices and depth of children's involvement.
- Children are often involved in later stages of PAR projects and are disengaged from the process of the analysis of the data.
- PAR affects children and youth as well as social service organizations and communities, and outcome of PAR are interrelated.

This research did not receive any specific grant from funding agencies in the public, commercial, or not-for-profit sectors.
