This is a PDF file of an unedited manuscript that has been accepted for publication. As a service to our customers we are providing this early version of the manuscript. The manuscript will undergo copyediting, typesetting, and review of the resulting proof before it is published in its final form. Please note that during the production process errors may be discovered which could affect the content, and all legal disclaimers that apply to the journal pertain.

Highlights

- Literature review of energy-efficient train control and timetabling.
- Overview of energy-efficient driving strategies under various conditions.
- Application of Pontryagin's Maximum Principle to optimal train control.
- Insight in the relation between energy-efficient train control and timetabling.
- Overview of algorithms for energy-efficient train control and timetabling.
