NURSING PROGRAMS

Fundamentals of Perioperative Practice: Program for Nursing Curricula

AORN advocates for the inclusion of learning activities in the perioperative setting in all undergraduate professional nursing curricula. This online 10-module fundamentals course has been designed specifically for inclusion in general nursing programs and includes undergraduate Quality and Safety Education for Nurses (QSEN) competencies. AORN believes that the perioperative setting is a prime area where the nursing process can be applied. These learning activities, which can be integrated into existing curricula of nursing programs, contribute to desired end-of-program outcomes. The perioperative setting is an area in which there is a tremendous emphasis on patient safety, so it presents numerous opportunities to explore human factors and communication theories.

Using 10 modules from AORN's Periop 101: A Core Curriculum, the fundamentals course provides a well-defined foundation of perioperative nursing concepts and gives students basic information about aseptic technique and teamwork that can be translated into many clinical experiences. For additional information or to purchase, please contact Terry Avitable, MSN, RN, CNOR, at (800) 755-2676 x 211 or by e-mail at tavitable@aorn.org, or visit <https://www.aorn.org/p101/fundamentals>.

PERIOP 101: A CORE CURRICULUM

Periop 101: A Core Curriculum is a comprehensive blended educational program developed by AORN's expert perioperative nurse-authors based on the latest, evidence-based Guidelines for Perioperative Practice. This program combines a standardized, evidence-based online curriculum and textbook readings with hands-on skills labs and a clinical practicum led by experienced perioperative nurses.

AORN recommends Periop 101 for novice perioperative nurses, including new graduates, nurses transitioning into the perioperative suite from other nursing specialties, and other health care team members. There are three different learning plans to choose from: OR Nurse, Obstetric (OB) RN Circulator, and ASC Nurse.

Preceptor Certificate Program

AORN's Preceptor Certificate Program will improve your preceptor education, which in turn will give your nurses the skills they need. Success in the OR is the major responsibility of a preceptor. It is important to remember, however, that even a nurse who is clinically skilled is not automatically a good preceptor; teaching is a learned skill, like any other. AORN's expert perioperative nurse-authors have developed a three-module certificate program to assist preceptors in preparing for their role in acclimating novice perioperative nurses to this unique environment. Program components include adult learning theories, novice to expert considerations, problem solving, validating competency, dealing with the health care reality shock, and the challenges of working with new graduates. To learn more about this program, visit <https://www.aorn.org/aorn-org/education/facility-solutions/periop-101/periop-101-preceptors>.

PERIOP MASTERY PROGRAM

When your experienced nurses retain and practice misinformation, these knowledge gaps can result in negative patient care. Reduce patient risk by identifying and eliminating confidently held misinformation through our innovative learning program. Standardize education for your experienced nurses with learning modules covering aseptic technique, sterilization and disinfection, patient and worker safety, and patient care. For more information or to request a demo, please visit <https://www.aorn.org/periopmasteryprogram>.

ONBOARDING/ORIENTATION TOOLS

A successful onboarding/orientation process promotes patient safety, meets organizational goals, and provides the experienced perioperative RN with an employment environment that is professionally and personally desirable. Orientation providers, including educators, hiring managers, and staffing agencies, can administer these assessments, provide targeted education using the implementation tools to address identified gaps in the new hire RN's knowledge of perioperative guidelines, and verify perioperative nursing competencies for newly hired experienced perioperative RNs. These tools are available for individual purchase or as a facility subscription. For more information, visit <https://www.aorn.org/onboardingtools>.

Medication Safety Assessment (Adult)

Knowledge of perioperative medications and safety practices is critical for positive patient outcomes. This online independent study assessment activity will help experienced perioperative RNs identify knowledge gaps related to medications in the perioperative setting. Each participant will receive 2.0 contact hours after successful completion. This module is available for individual purchase or as a facility subscription. For more information, visit <https://www.aorn.org/onboardingtools>.
