Dear Nicolaas Deutz, Editor-in-Chief of Clinical Nutrition

We are submitting our response to the letter "Higher predictability of the lipid accumulation product than commonly used anthropometric parameters partly due to its definition", which has been based on the published work "The lipid accumulation product is a powerful tool to predict metabolic syndrome in undiagnosed Brazilian adults" (MV Nascimento-Ferreira et al. Clin Nutr. 2016. DOI: 10.1016/j.clnu.2016.12.020; Manuscript # YCLNU-D-16-00440R1).

All authors have read and approved the response to this letter to the Editor.

Yours sincerely
