

Should we rebrand multiple sclerosis a dementia?

Gavin Giovannoni

PII: S2211-0348(17)30009-3
DOI: <http://dx.doi.org/10.1016/j.msard.2017.01.008>
Reference: MSARD519

To appear in: Multiple Sclerosis and Related Disorders
Revised date: 6 January 2017
Accepted date: 12

Cite this article as: Gavin Giovannoni, Should we rebrand multiple sclerosis dementia?, Multiple Sclerosis and Related Disorders <http://dx.doi.org/10.1016/j.msard.2017.01.008>

This is a PDF file of an unedited manuscript that has been accepted for publication. As a service to our customers we are providing this early version of the manuscript. The manuscript will undergo copyediting, typesetting, and review of the resulting galley proof before it is published in its final citable form. Please note that during the production process errors may be discovered which could affect the content, and all legal disclaimers that apply to the journal pertain.

Should we rebrand multiple sclerosis a dementia?

Gavin Giovannoni*

Blizard Institute, Barts and The London School of Medicine and Dentistry, Queen Mary University of London

Correspondence: Professor Gavin Giovannoni, Blizard Institute, Barts and The London School of Medicine and Dentistry, Queen Mary University London, 4 Newark Street, London E1 2AT.,
Telephone: +44 (0)20 7882 2579, Fax: +44 (0)20 7882 2180. Email: g.giovannoni@qmul.ac.uk

Key words = multiple sclerosis, cognitive impairment, dementia, unemployment, disease modifying therapy, MRI, monitoring, treating to target, disease activity free

Download English Version:

<https://daneshyari.com/en/article/5590772>

Download Persian Version:

<https://daneshyari.com/article/5590772>

Daneshyari.com