This is a PDF file of an unedited manuscript that has been accepted for publication. As a service to our customers we are providing this early version of the manuscript. The manuscript will undergo copyediting, typesetting, and review of the resulting proof before it is published in its final form. Please note that during the production process errors may be discovered which could affect the content, and all legal disclaimers that apply to the journal pertain.

Overground vs. Treadmill Walking on Biomechanical Energy Harvesting: an Energetics and EMG Study

Acknowledgements

This work was supported by NSERC Discovery Grant to Q. L.. Thanks to Michael Shepertycky for providing the energy harvester.

Removed from Methodology Section:

Ethical approval was obtained from the Queen's University General Research Ethics Board (GMECH-015-12 Biomechanical Energy Harvesting Backpack, ROMEO# 6006569) and each subject confirmed participation with informed written consent.
