This is a PDF file of an unedited manuscript that has been accepted for publication. As a service to our customers we are providing this early version of the manuscript. The manuscript will undergo copyediting, typesetting, and review of the resulting proof before it is published in its final form. Please note that during the production process errors may be discovered which could affect the content, and all legal disclaimers that apply to the journal pertain.

Highlights

- Data disclosure is an essential feature for credible empirical work
- However, universal mandatory data disclosure may have two unintended effects
- It decreases a researchers effort to generate data
- It decreases overall welfare if it induces strategic delay of paper submission
