Research in Medical Education

Dear Sir/Madam,

I hereby submit the manuscript titled “Research in Medical Education” to your esteemed journal.

This paper provides a concise description of various strategies in medical education research. This area is grossly underdeveloped currently and the paper can prompt healthcare educators to conduct good quality research to build knowledge in the field to benefit teachers, students and patients.

It should be of interest to all clinicians, specialists, junior and senior colleagues involved in medical education.

As a regular reader of your journal, I am aware there have been similar publications and these papers always benefit readers of diverse backgrounds.

Since the manuscript includes a wide range of currently relevant research examples, it is likely to be cited in a lot of upcoming publications.

I confirm this work is original and it is not being considered for publication elsewhere. I look forward to a favourable response.

Kind regards,
Shalini
